

CHOICES AT SCHOOL

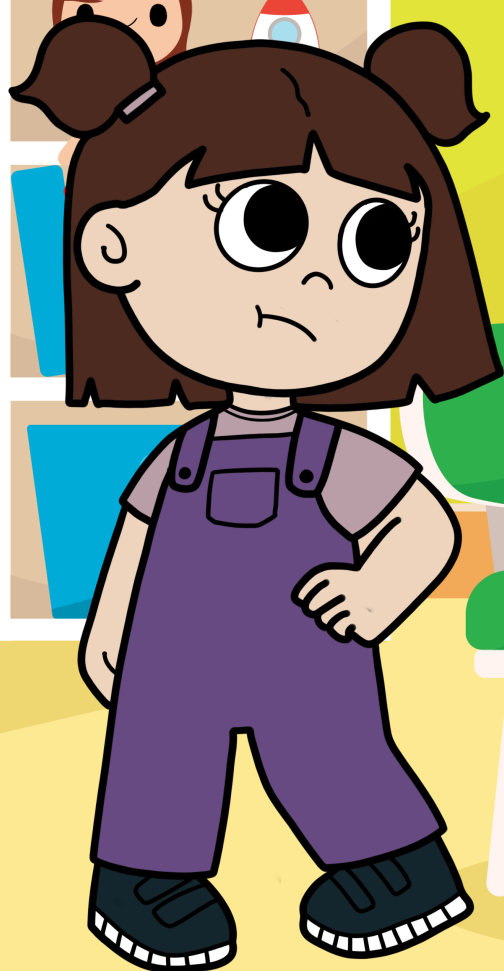

At school Isabella hangs her backpack.
Suddenly, she sees another backpack on the floor.
She looks at it and thinks:
“Should I leave it there.. or pick it up?”

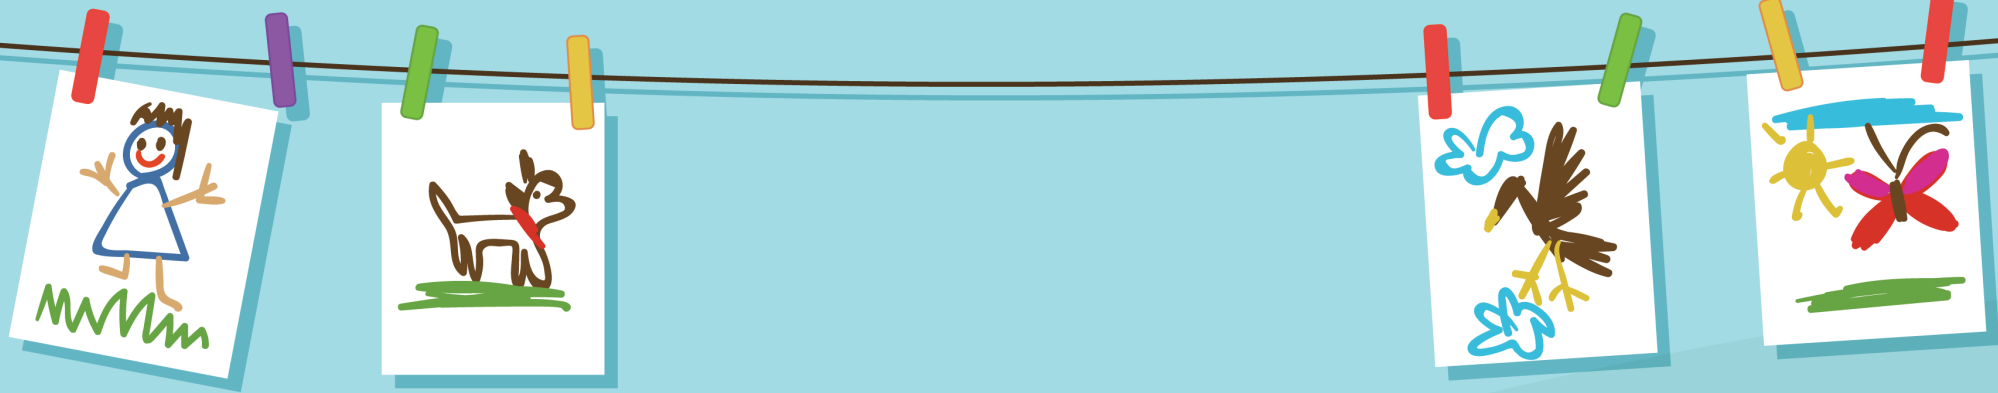

“What is the good choice?”
Good choice: Pick it up and hang it nicely.

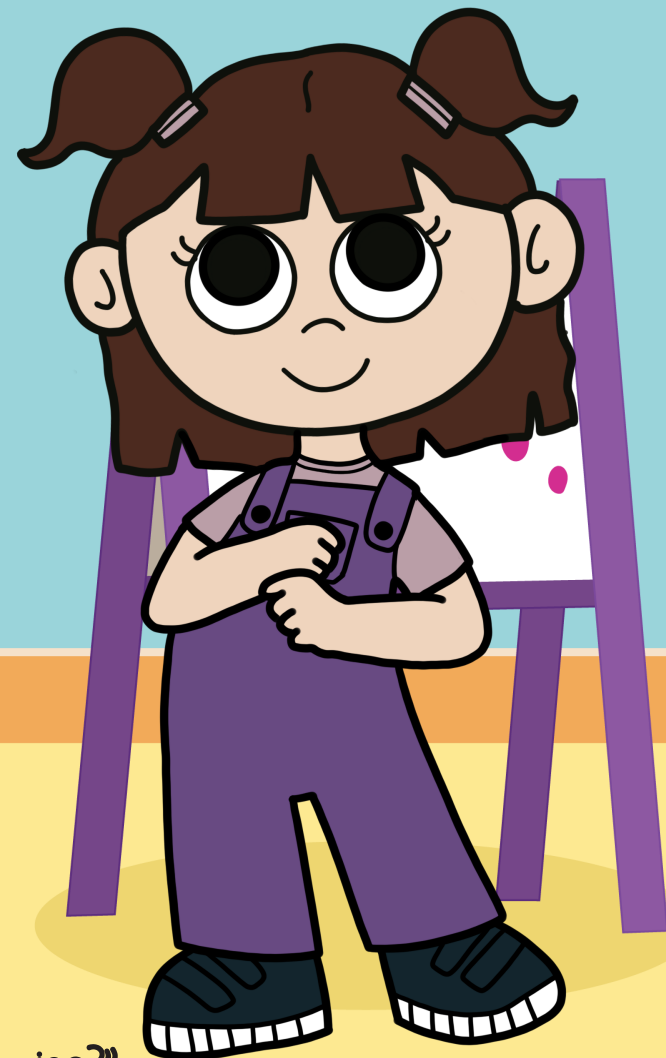

Then, Isabella looks at her table and sees her crayons
all over the place.
Some are even on the floor!
She thinks: "Should I leave them like that.. or put them back in the box?"

"What should she do?"
Good choice: Put them back to keep her table clean.

In art class, Isabella sees a bottle of paint at the edge of the table.
It could fall any second!
She thinks: "Should I move it.. or just ignore it?"

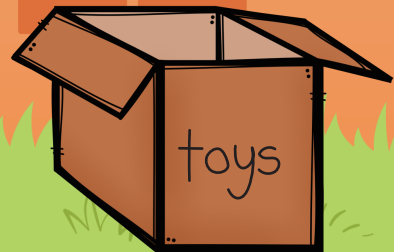

"What is the good choice?"
Good choice: Move the paint to the center of the table.

Everyone finishes their lunch and the bell rings for recess!
Isabella sees trash and food still on the tables.
She thinks:
"Should I run to recess or help clean first?"

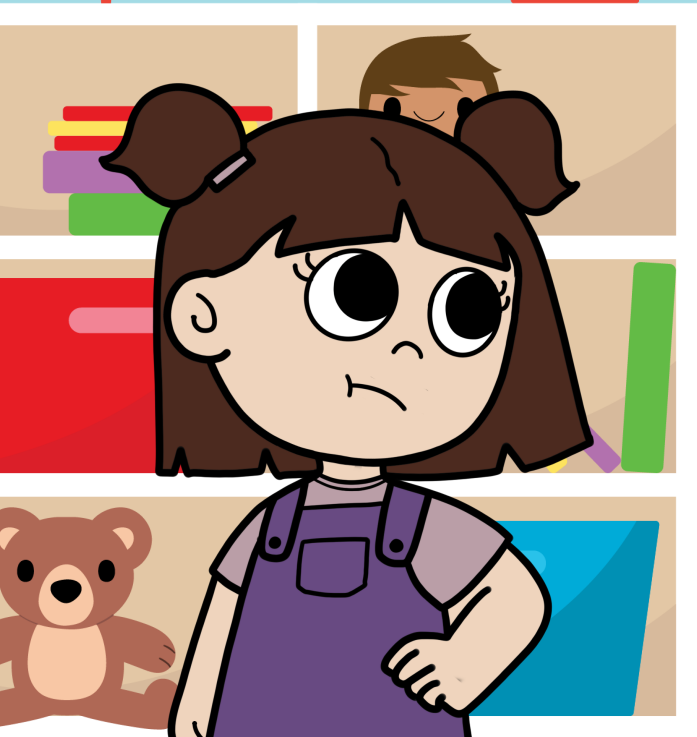

"What would she do?"
Good choice: Pick up the lunch.

After recess, toys are all over the playground.
There's a big box nearby for putting them away.
Isabella looks around and thinks:
"Should I leave the toys... or help pick them up?"

"What is the good choice?"
Good choice: Put the toys inside the box.

At the end of the day, the Teacher says:
"Time to line up to go home!"
Everyone grabs their backpacks.
Isabella sees that a classmate left their lunchbox on the floor.
She thinks:
"Should I leave it there... or give it back before we leave?"

"What is the good and kind choice?"
Good choice: Pick up the lunchbox and return it to her friend.

"Thank you, Isabella! You made good choices today."

"Can you help like Isabella does at school?"
