

A WEEK OF SHOPPING

On Monday, Isabella opened the fridge.
"Oh no! We don't have any eggs or strawberries!"
"It's time to go to the supermarket," she said.

Ask: "What does Isabella have to buy?"
"Are there any eggs or strawberries in the fridge?"

At the supermarket Isabella looked for her items.

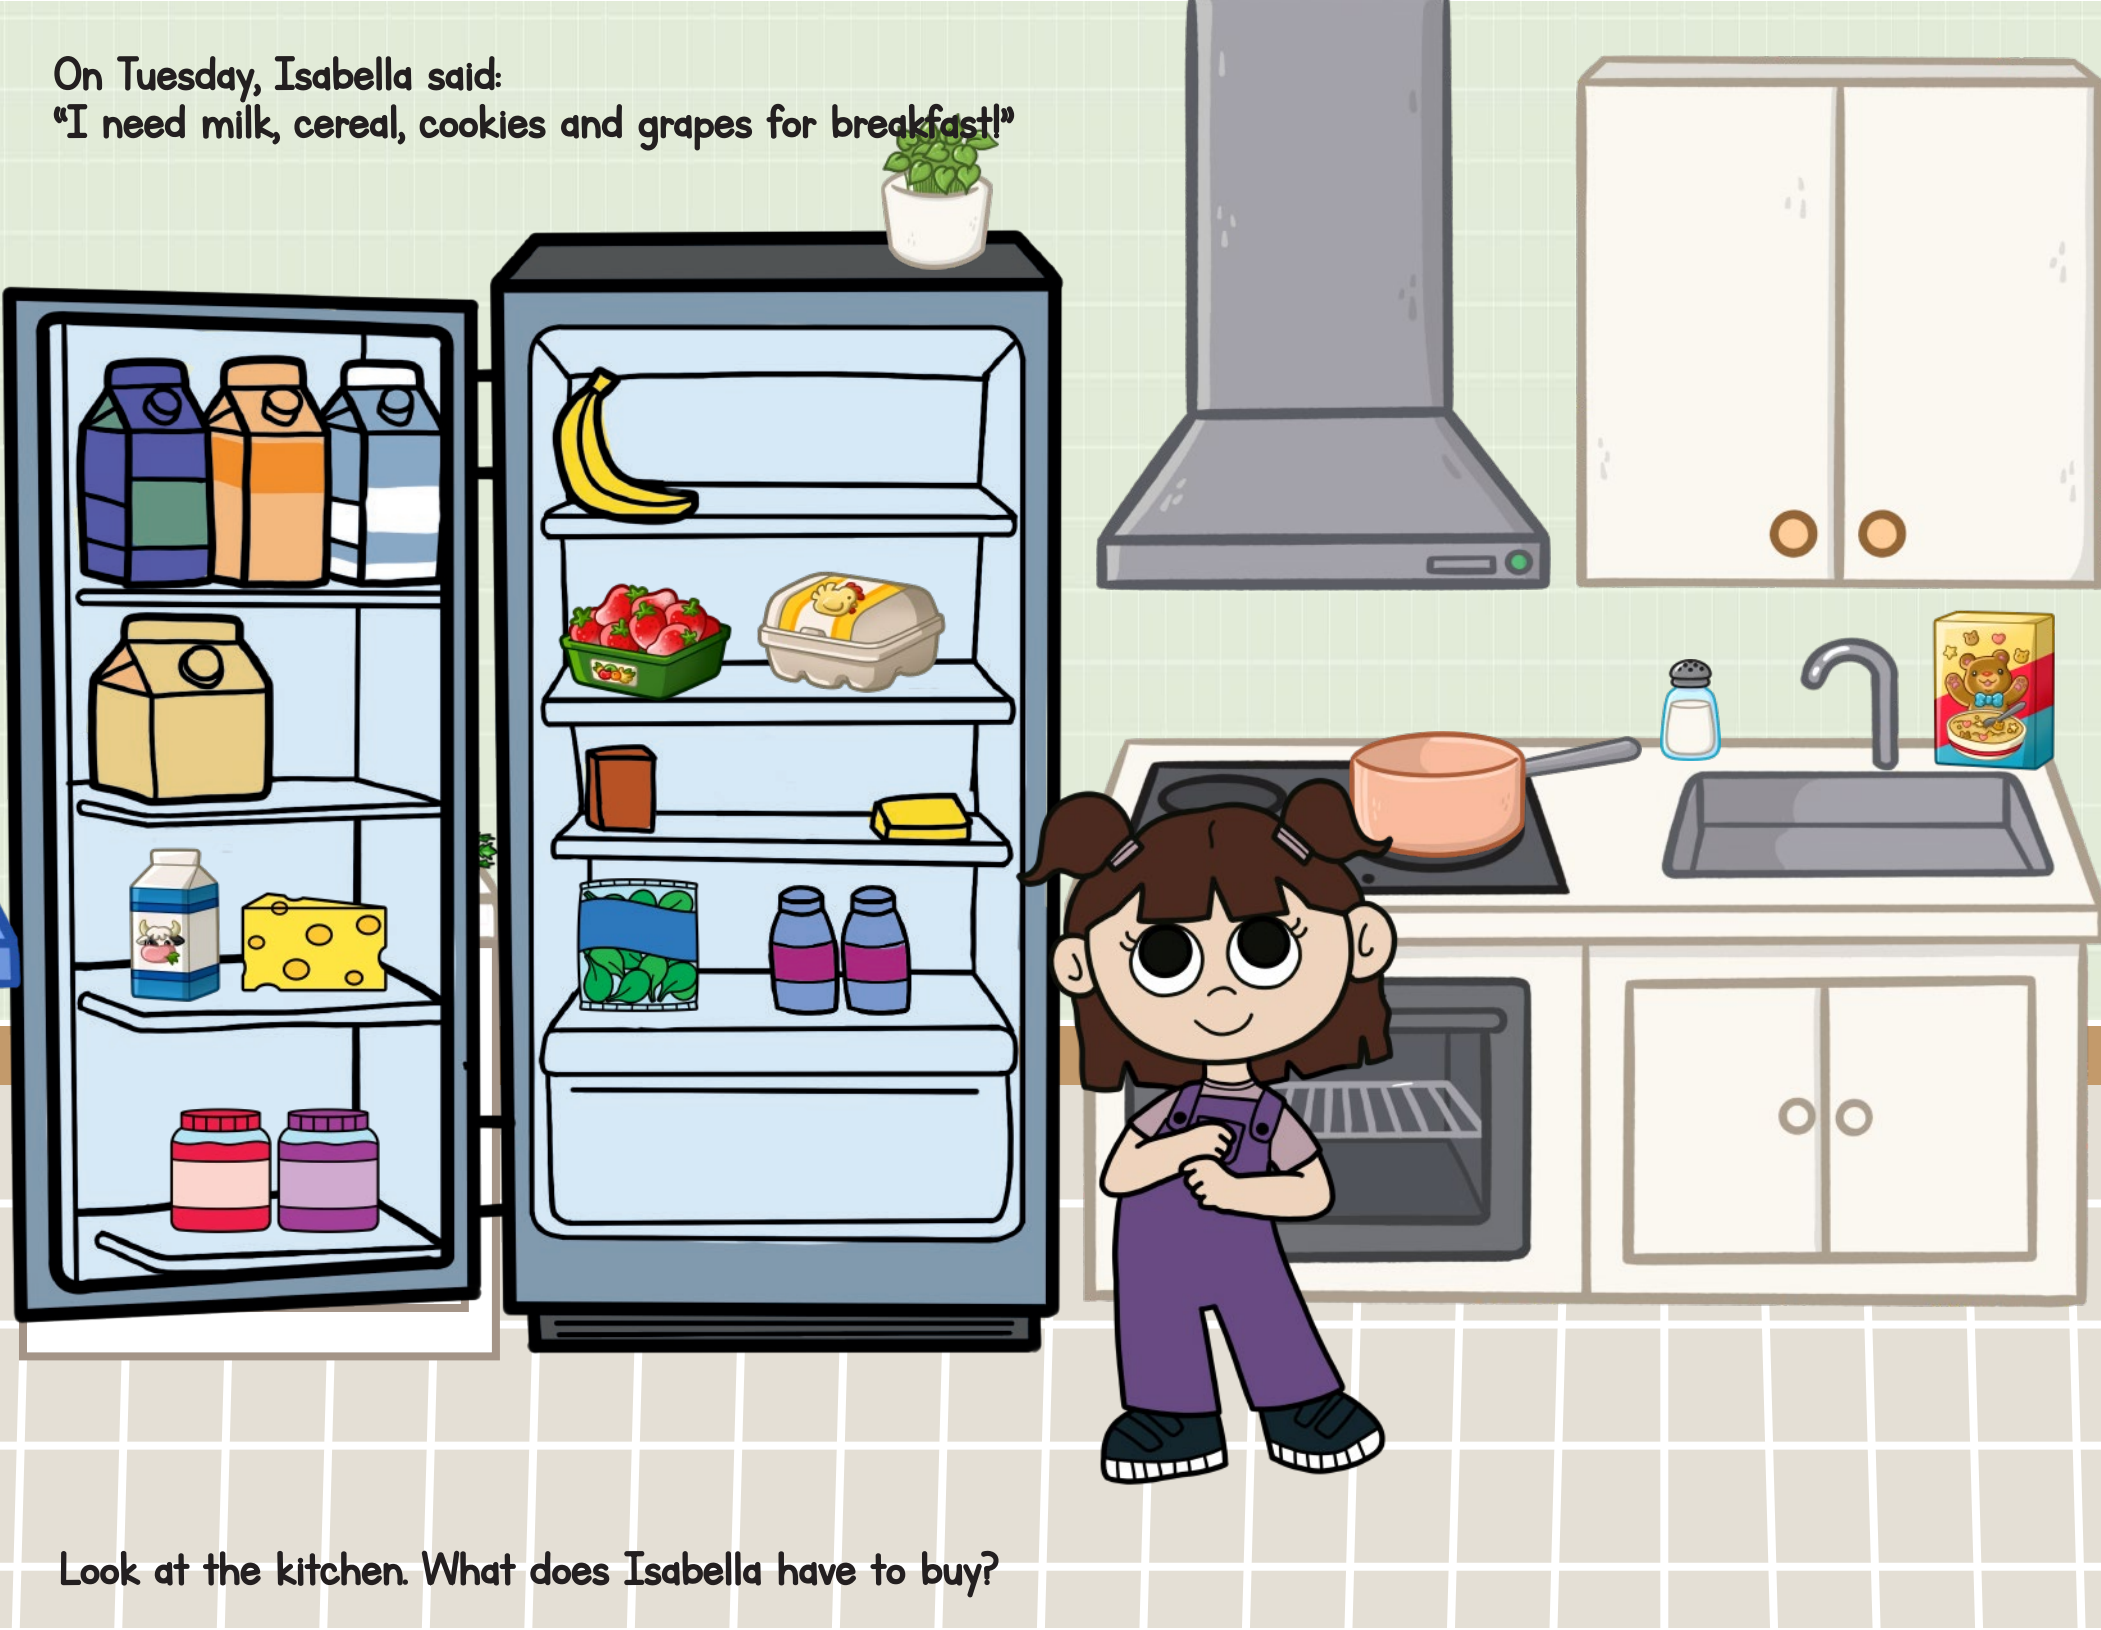

Ask: "How much does each item cost?"
"How much is the total?"

Isabella puts the food on the counter.
The cashier said: "That will be $6." and Isabella paid.

Let students confirm the total.
Ask: "Was it enough money?"

On Tuesday, Isabella said:
"I need milk, cereal, cookies and grapes for breakfast!"

Look at the kitchen. What does Isabella have to buy?

At the supermarket Isabella looked for her items.

$ 6

$ 10

$ 2

$ 3

$ 2

$ 10

$ 10

$ 3

$ 10

$ 7

$ 10

$ 4

$ 5

$ 4

Ask: "How much does each item cost?"
"How much is the total?"

Isabella puts the food on the counter.
The cashier said: "That will be $10." and Isabella paid.

Let students confirm the total.
Ask: "Was it enough money?"

On Wednesday, Isabella wanted to make sandwiches. Isabella opened the fridge and said: "I need bread, ham, and cheese".

Ask: "What does Isabella have to buy?"
"Is there any ham or cheese in the fridge?"

At the supermarket, Isabella looked for her items.

$ 7

$ 10

$ 7

$ 5

$ 10

$ 3

$ 10

$ 4

$ 3

$ 5

$ 4

$ 3

$ 3

Ask: "How much does each item cost?"
"How much is the total?"

Isabella put the food on the counter.
The cashier said: "That will be $9." and Isabella paid.

Let students confirm the total.
Ask: "Was it enough money?"

On Thursday, Isabella needed a snack for school.
She wanted cookies, a tuna sandwich, and yogurt.

Ask: "Look at the kitchen. What does Isabella have to buy?"

At the supermarket, Isabella looked for her items.

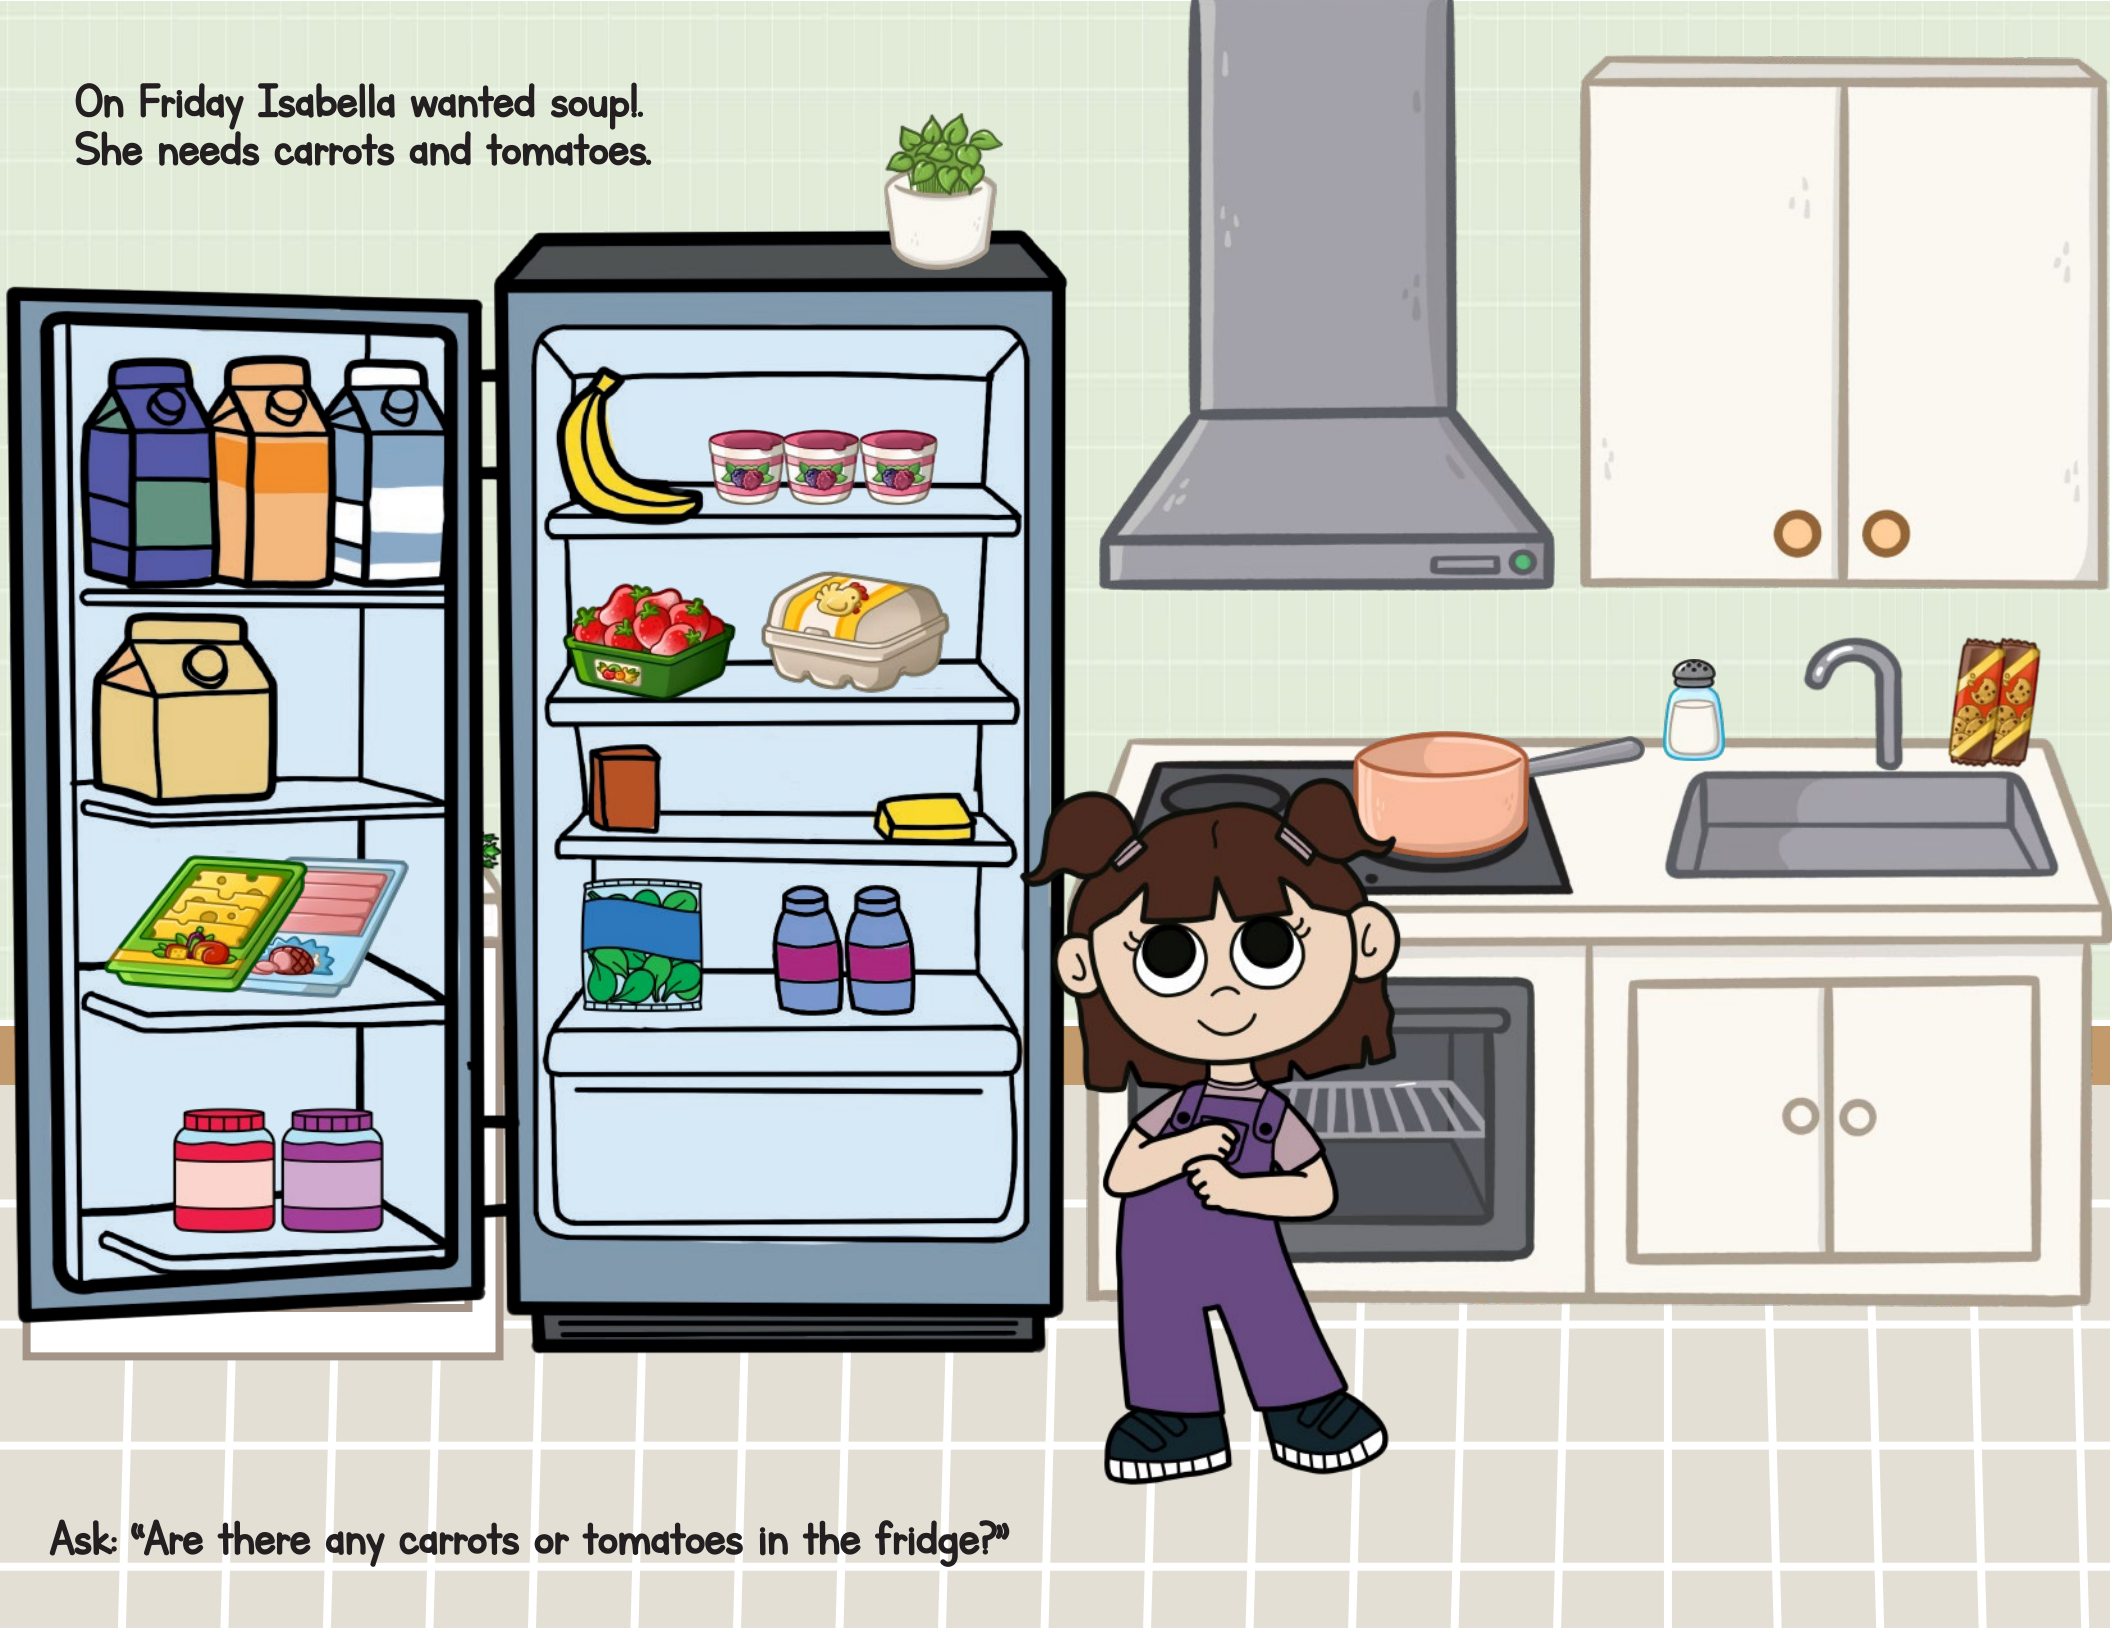

Ask: "How much does each item cost?"
"How much is the total?"

Isabella put the food on the counter.
The cashier said: "That will be $17." and Isabella paid.

Let students confirm the total.
Ask: "Was it enough money?"

On Friday Isabella wanted soup.
She needs carrots and tomatoes.

Ask: "Are there any carrots or tomatoes in the fridge?"

At the supermarket, Isabella looked for the items.

Ask: "How much does each item cost?"
"How much is the total?"

Isabella put the food on the counter.
The cashier said: "That will be $14." and Isabella paid.

Let students confirm the total.
Ask: "Was it enough money?"

On Saturday Isabella shouted: It is ice cream day!
Isabella wanted ice cream, a soda, and chips.

Ask: "Look at the kitchen. What does Isabella have to buy?"

At the supermarket, Isabella looked for the items.

$ 7

$ 10

$ 7

$ 5

$ 3

$ 10

$ 3

$ 10

$ 4

$ 2

$ 5

$ 4

$ 3

$ 3

Ask: "How much does each item cost?"
"How much is the total?"

Isabella put the food on the counter.
The cashier said: "That will be $5." and Isabella paid.

Let students confirm the total.
Ask: "Was it enough money?"

On Sunday Isabella opened the fridge and said: "Let's make a fruit salad!, I need blueberries, oranges, and grapes."

Ask: "What does Isabella have to buy?"

At the supermarket, Isabella looked for her items.

Ask: "How much does each item cost?"
"How much is the total?"

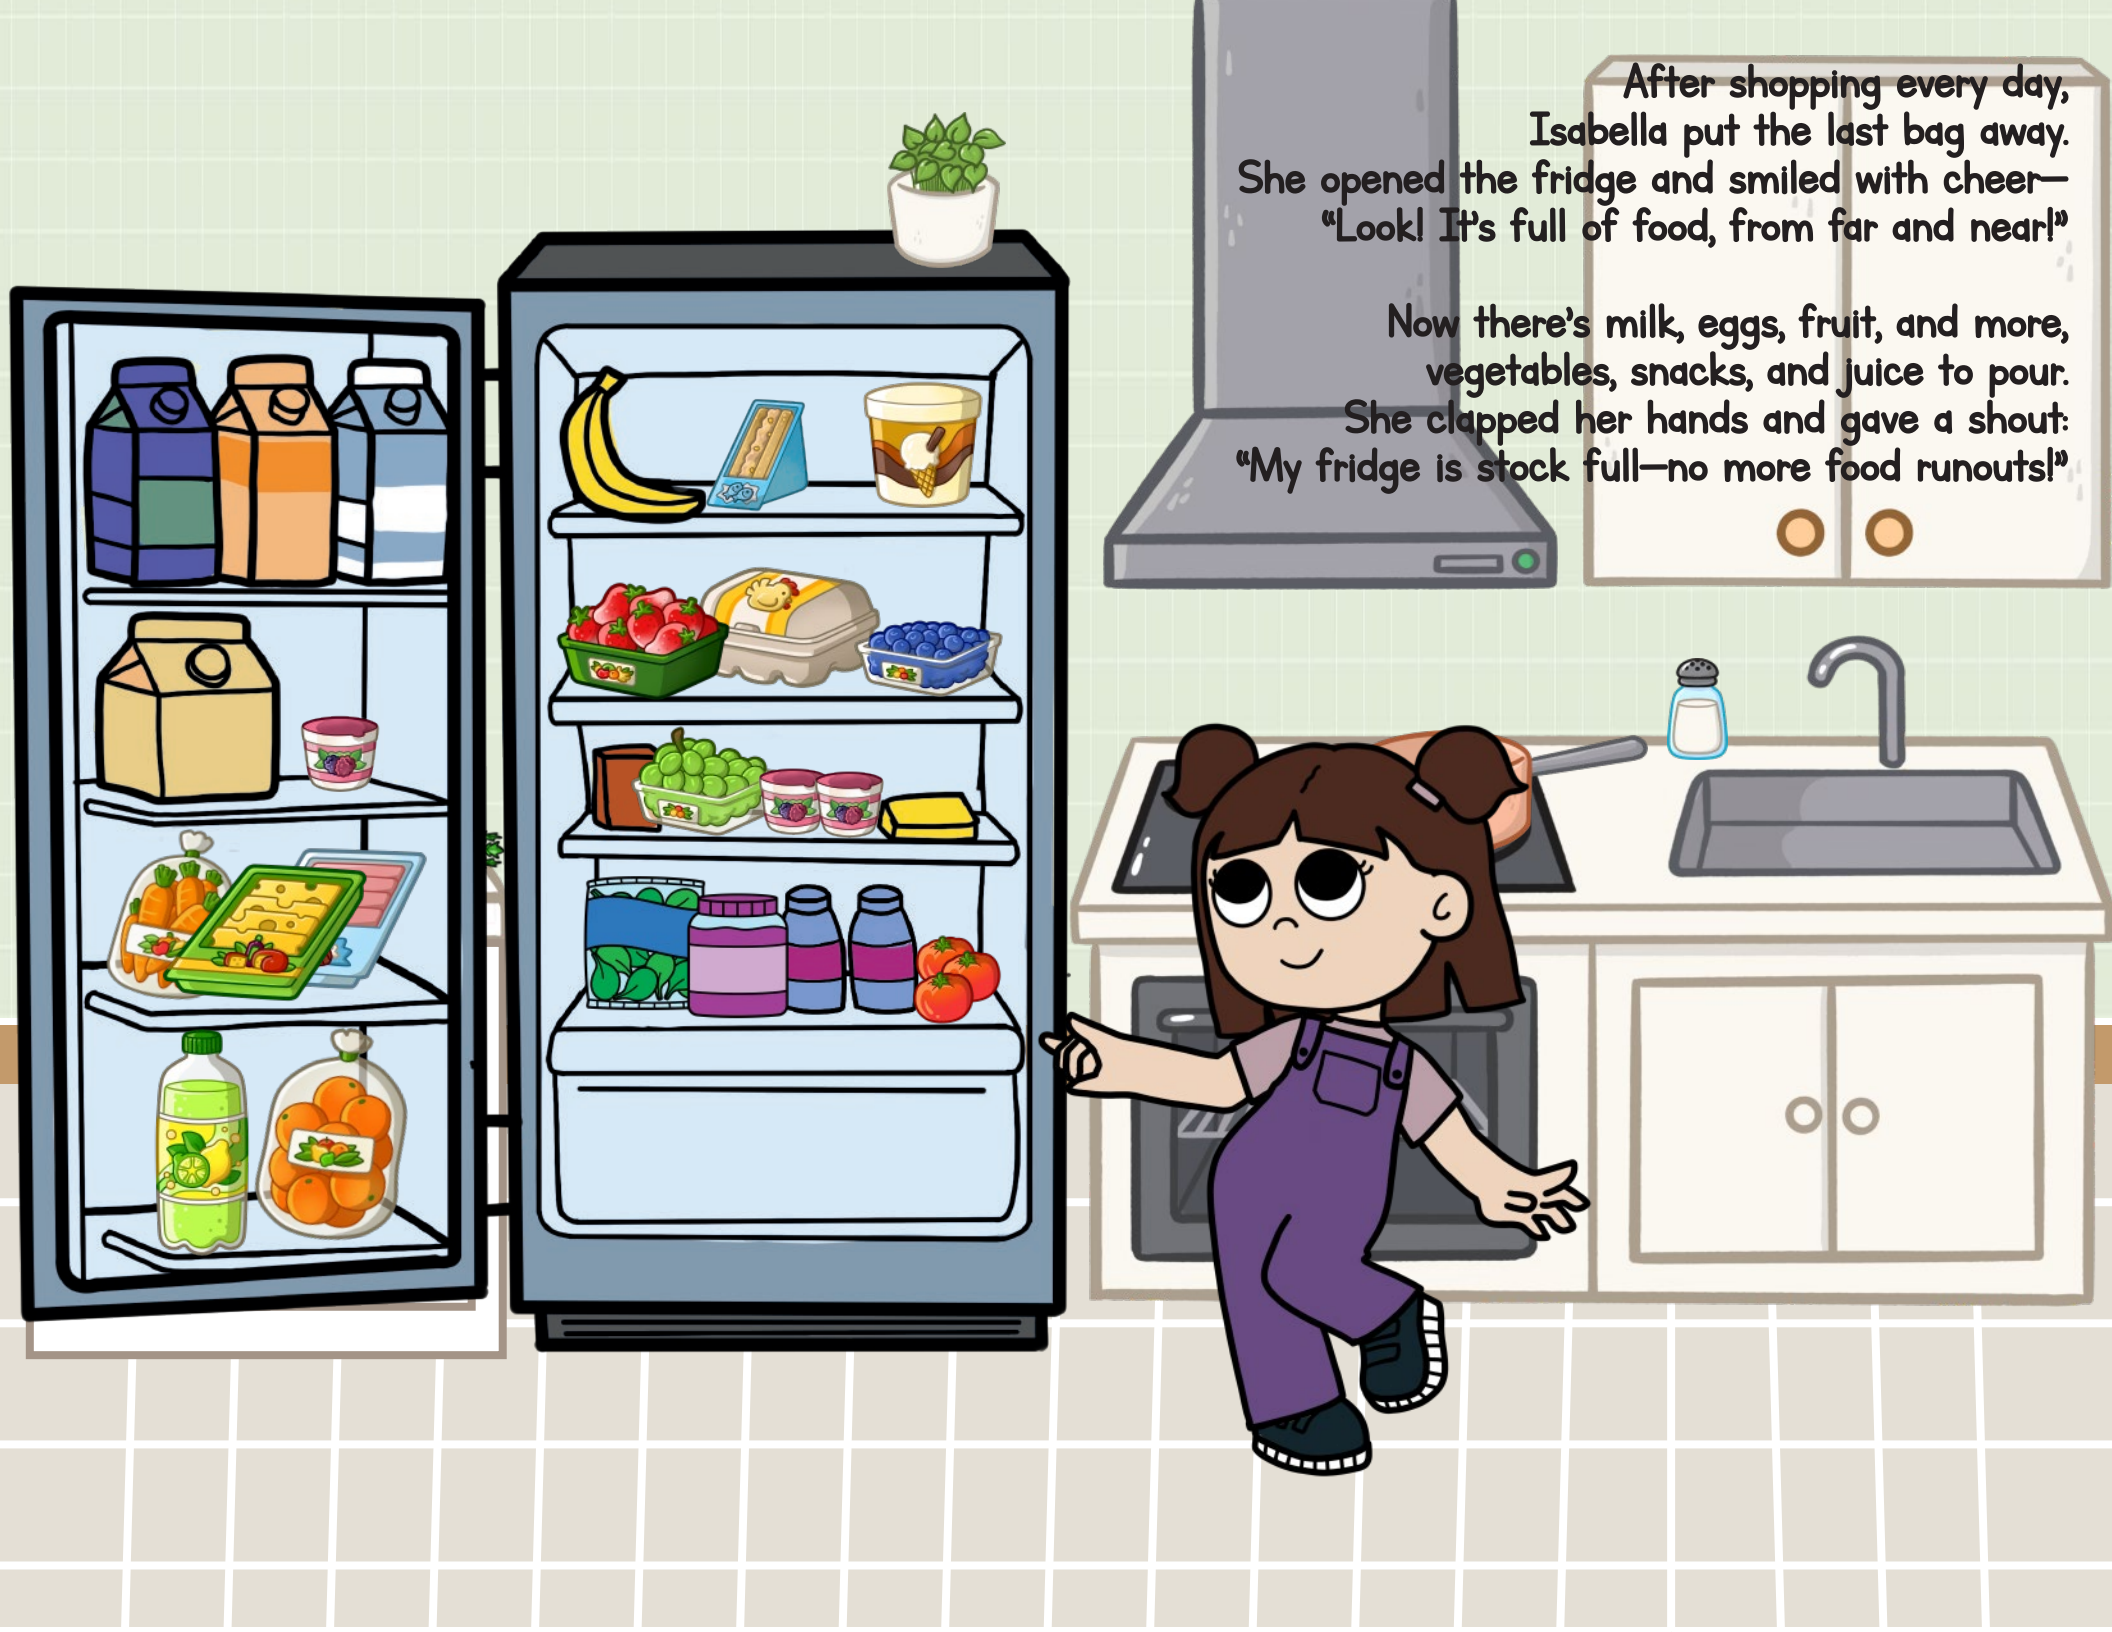

Isabella put the food on the counter.
The cashier said: "That will be $8." and Isabella paid.

Let the students confirm the total.
Ask: "Was it enough money?"

After shopping every day,
Isabella put the last bag away.
She opened the fridge and smiled with cheer—
“Look! It’s full of food, from far and near!”

Now there’s milk, eggs, fruit, and more,
vegetables, snacks, and juice to pour.
She clapped her hands and gave a shout:
“My fridge is stock full—no more food runouts!”

THE END

